DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

1. The information disclosure statements (IDS) submitted on 11/17/03 and 11/21/03 have been considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

- 2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:
 - The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
- 3. Claims 1 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential steps, such omission amounting to a gap between the steps. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted steps are: actually forming the paperboard.

Claim 1 should be amended to read - -allowing the adhesive to harden , thereby affixing the overlapped sheets together - -.

Claim 5 should be amended to read - - affixing one sheet to the other by arranging the sheets into an overlapping relationship and exposing the RF adhesive impregnated sheet to RF energy - -.

Double Patenting

4. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970);and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Application/Control Number: 10/604,843

Art Unit: 1733

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

5. Claims 1-7 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-8 of U.S. Patent No. 6,783,623.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claims 1 and 6 of the patent read on claims 1 and 5 of the application except they do not specify that the RF active adhesive is a silicate.

However, the patent does state that any suitable RF active adhesive can be used (Column 3, lines 15-16) and it is well known and conventional to have RF active silicate adhesives. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a conventional RF active adhesive, such as a silicate, in the method of the patent.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Riebel et al (U.S. Patent 5,611,882) teaches making board stock by mixing an RF active adhesive binder in with pulp stock and then curing the mixture with radio frequency energy (See abstract; Column 2, lines 50-59; Column 10, lines 36-49; Column 11, lines 14-37). The RF active adhesive acts as a binder to bind the pulp together and there is no suggestion that the adhesive impregnated in the board is used to affix together overlapping sheets of similar board stock with or without the RF adhesive mixed therein.

Art Unit: 1733

Thomas et al (US 2003/0034117) teaches applying an aqueous-based adhesive coating to paperboard and forming a multiply core or tubular container wherein the adhesive affixes overlapping regions of one or more sheets together. The process uses RF energy to heat the aqueous adhesive to evaporate the water to allow for faster setting of the adhesive (paragraphs 0008-0010 and 0026-0027). There is no suggestion of adding a radio frequency active adhesive into the pulp stock to form a sheet and using the adhesive impregnated in the sheet to affix together overlapping sheets of similar board stock with or without the RF adhesive mixed therein.
